White Dry Goods Co. to Resume Business Soon

Contractors and workmen of all kinds are pushing the work rapidly of thoroughly remodeling the building of the White Dry Goods Store at 63rd St. and Hermitage Ave., which was severely attacked by fire recently. The insurance company made a satisfactory settlement and a "Fire Sale" was held two days last week and hundreds of Englewood families carried home bundles of merchandise at a very low cost. The supply was entirely sold out in two days, for which the management wishes to thank you for your patronage, and the store will reopen in about two weeks with a full and complete line of new seasonable up-to-date goods. Watch this paper for their opening announcement.

Saved the Eggs

Because of the embargo on freight and express shipments, on account of the switchmen's strike, Palmer and Taylor loaded twenty cases of eggs in their truck Sunday morning and started to the landing to ship them by boat. At the landing the eggs were loaded into a barge and taken to Hamburg, where the boat was in waiting. When within a few feet of the Illinois side the launch sank and the cases were left to the tender mercy of the raging water of the Mississippi. Every case remained on the surface and fortunately floated to the bank and not an egg was lost. It was necessary, however, to repack the entire shipment, as all fillers were thoroughly soaked. The launch sank in about six feet of water and all occupants escaped with a little ducking.—Elsberry Democrat.

Seventy-two years ago, when Taylor and Fillmore, the whig candidates for the presidency, defeated Cass and Butler, the whigs of Louisiana, Missouri, felt so jubilant that they had prepared fifty of the best hams, with bread, pickles, coffee and a great feast to the voters. They had a big

N. & N. Auto Sales Co. Beautify Their Salesrooms

Fully believing in a beautiful salesroom in which to display their beautiful line of cars they sell, the N. & N. Auto Sales Co., 1801 W. 63rd St., have had the decorators the past week. The color scheme is pure silly white, trimmed in gold, which gives the large display rooms a handsome appearance.

Everything But Booze at U. S. Auction Sale

In the good old days we could walk into a government auction of unclaimed mail and for ten cents buy a package that might contain anything from a diamond ring to a pair of shoes.

Now, because of the prohibition act and other laws, the auctions are conducted along the lines of a rummage sale. The packages are opened and the contents assorted, placed in lots and numbered in a catalogue. Uncle Sam is careful to see that no booze is put on sale.

The regular semi-annual sale of the postal authorities was held recently in Chicago.

Among the articles offered were: German pipes, false teeth with gold crowns, liver pills, undressed dolls, blue glass eyes, war trophies of all kinds, hundreds of pairs of silk stockings and many silk shirts and handkerchiefs.

At one time more than 5,000 people jammed into the building where the sale was being held.

A New Weather Bureau

Have you any little children in your home? Then you never need rely on the wild guesses of the weather man or on the barometer, which is always out of order to find out when a storm is coming.

Sister Nonna of one of the day nurseries finds that the conduct of the children is a far more reliable guide than all the weather specialists and scientific instruments.

"I just watch them," she said to the woman, "and if they are restless and inclined to be ill-tempered I know a storm is due within twelve hours," she said. "I can always predict the weather from the conduct of the children old enough to run about, and even the infants are often more troublesome, won't fall asleep readily and cry a little when a storm is brewing. Smile if you will, but I rarely, almost never, make a mistake."

Restless children—rainy weather—that is the formula. Try it with your own.

"All Jazz Revue" at the Englewood

At the Englewood Theatre commencing with the usual matinee next Sunday, May 9th, Irons and Clamage will present the "All Jazz Revue" with an entirely new book and a cast of stars whose work have placed them in the front ranks of extravaganza. Messrs. Irons and Clamage have provided an entirely new show, said to embrace every requirement of a highly enjoyable and diversified entertainment. Fresh comedy, bright new musical features and specialty acts of unusual originality are said to be prodigally in evidence throughout the entire show, and the scenery and costumes are described as being equally as good as those displayed in high class musical comedy. Prominent in the cast are Lou Powers, an eccentric tad with an individual style of creating humor, and he also possesses a voice of unusual quality; the Morette Sisters, those clever musical entertainers who will be pleasantly remembered as contributing in no small way to the success of many a vaudeville bill; Margie Catlin, an ingenue comedienne who is really funny, in fact one of the few funny women in extravaganza who is really funny; Pat Daly, another comedian possessing an unusual voice and with originality in every move; Pearl Hamilton, an effervescing soubrette with a repertoire of classical dances that are very effective; Raymond Kelly, Happy Freyer, Bob Wolfe, other fun-makers with acting ability of an uncommon order; Nadine Grey, a terpsichorean genius, and the famous chorus of thirty nifty jazzers all help to make the "All Jazz Revue" the headline attraction of the American circuit.

An unsafe man is like an unsafe machine—both must be made safe.

The Business Men's District Association was honored yesterday with a visit from Mr. G. J. Badger, General Manager of the Trustee System Corporation of this city, with various branches in the most prominent cities throughout the United States. His talk on the banking industry was very instructive and greatly enjoyed by all present. Mr. McLane, Branch Manager of the Englewood office, located at 6317 Halsted Street, was then introduced. We are glad to have had these two gentlemen with us. Come again next Tuesday, we will have with us, as our guest, Captain Ryan of the Englewood Police Station.

"MOTHER"

In this day of competing institutions for redemption of the world and for its prosperity, we are all agreed that one institution stands peaks above all others, and this one is the home. Also in the day political leaders, reds, hot headed religious fanatics, there is one, regardless of politics, race or religion that we all come to in honor and reverence. That one is our mother. It is good that next Sunday is "Mother's Day." Not that but every day is mother's day. But this one in particular is hers. It's no church propaganda. It's a thing of the heart. The man of old said, "God could not be present everywhere, so he made mothers." And how true, about all we know about God we received from her lips. But mothers ought to realize that with this honor comes also that tremendous responsibility. A man once said, "A true friend is one that knows all about you and loves you just the same." Then what a friend is mother! All the world may turn you away, mother doesn't. She has brought to our lives Frankencense, Myrth and Gold. Frankencense of noble confidence, the myrth that dries every tear and stops each pain, the pure gold of manhood and womanhood.

Indeed to her belongs the jewels of old, an attentive ear, and an instructive tongue and a faithful breast. An ear attentive alike to the voice of a child either as its lips ripple in laughter or quiver in pain. An instructive tongue of gentleness, warning, counseling, guiding. A faithful breast! Faithful to those little sweet secrets of childish prattle or those large heart throb secrets of manhood and womanhood. How good to feel—"Tell mother, she won't tell anyone."

Yes, mother, is the Statue of Liberty standing on the shores of life, as we come in infancy to this world, we see her standing above the cradle or bed welcoming us and we learn to recognize her face and voice first of all and then when we leave the home shore to go out into business we see her standing in the door with that eternal torch of mother's love to light up our way, or even if we take that far, far voyage into the Eternal Port, we go out into that sea with that lasting image burnt upon our minds, mother standing by the bed still holding that flaming torch to light us on our way, following us even beyond the portals with her prayers.

Parker as Governor Co-operatives' Hope

Campaign to Be Boosted by Personal Canvass as Well as Billboards

"Parker for governor."

This mysterious appeal flashed from hundreds of billboards is no longer puzzling to the politicians. Parker is a bona fide candidate for governor and he is no mystery.

Candidate Parker is none other than Harrison M. Parker, 465 Deming Pl., connected with the Co-operative Society of America. For several years he was connected with the business departments of Chicago newspapers.

The backbone of Mr. Parker's support appears to be the co-operative organizations that are springing up to reduce the high cost of living. Mr. Parker says his candidacy was indorsed at a meeting of 5,000 representatives of co-operative societies held at Orchestra Hall two weeks ago tomorrow.

Fight Crooked Politicians

The Parker platform, in brief, is: "War of the consumers against dishonest capital, crooked politicians and corrupt labor leaders."

"My campaign is on and is to be carried to every part of Illinois," said Mr. Parker. "I will not be playing a lone hand, for the consumers are to have a complete state ticket. The candidates will be selected at a convention to be held in Chicago next September."

House to House Work Planned

While Mr. Parker believes in advertising his candidacy through billboards and other means of publicity, he says the real work is to be from house to house.

"The thousands of members of the co-operative societies already are at work," he said. "They are sending out letters and they are going personally to their neighbors and friends, not alone asking for support for Parker for governor, but arousing interest in the general movement and the convention that is coming. The campaign is just getting under headway."

National Theatre

Next week's attraction at the National Theatre was selected purely on its box office record, having played to absolutely capacity business in all the better stock houses. Since starting preparations for this production, we can easily see the reason for sell-out business.

The author called his play a comedy—but listen—you will say it has some kick in it, too—the kick being drama—real drama, not the depressing, tearful kind. Nor is it dry, it's so cleverly filled with laughs that you wonder what the next twist will be.

"Our Children"—the name alone is food for thought. Every father, mother and child should see this wonderful entertainment. There's something in it you will like. It tells the story of providing for our children's future, whether we shall hold them down as maybe we were held down, compelling them to work hard, or work hard ourselves to give them the things we were denied.

Every part is good and there are many, though one of the fathers is a trifle long, you cry with him one minute and laugh at him the next, so he never gets tiresome. While the very manly part of the shoe factory foreman in love with his employer's daughter—the daughter herself (a beautiful part), the banker, his daughter, the confidential clerk to the factory owner, his life-long friend, who tries to advise him he's wrong—and who has a sweet little adopted daughter, the factory owner himself and his idolized son whose spending is the cause of most of the tears, all go making you enjoy your evening.

The United States has the second largest ship tonnage in the world, having an aggregated gross tonnage of 11,800,000 tons. This shows an increase between the outbreak of the war and April 1, 1919, of 3,900,000 tons.

A well is being sunk for natural gas in northern West Virginia which will be 8,000 feet deep. This is deeper than the sea itself, and will be the deepest well in the world. Up to this time the deepest is the "Lake" well near Fairmont, West Virginia, which is 7,579 feet deep.

Recent figures show that there were 59,110,000 acres of land used in the United States for the cultivation of wheat. The average yield was 15.5 bushels per acre.

The B. and L. Smart Shop, formerly of 63rd and Paulina, are now cosily located in the Columbus Theatre building, 6242 Ashland Ave. It will hereafter be known as "The Wilma Waist Shop."

May in the Garden

From the Corona Garden Guide

Cultivate all crops as soon as up to keep weeds from starting.

Have a mixture of Corona Dry and Tobacco Dust ready for the flea beetles. Wooden or paper frames covered with mosquito netting may be placed over the cucumber, melon and squash plants.

Transplant celery at least once to keep the tap roots short.

All the tender vegetables like cucumbers, melons, and squashes may be planted after danger of frost has passed.

Lima beans may be planted in soil made especially rich.

Sow peas, beans, beets, and carrots for a succession.

Start planting corn and continue every ten days.

Set out tomato plants by the middle of the month or soon after. Cover with light, cloth-covered frames or papers if frost threatens.

Prune shrubs after they bloom. The main thing is to get rid of dead and weak wood. Cut at the bottom. Nothing is accomplished by snipping off the ends.

Practically all the annuals may be sown in this month.

All perennial plants can be set out early in the month.

Late May is none too early to begin planting perennial seeds to make plants for the next season. Many kinds are best started in a cold frame.

Plant dahlias and cannas late in the month after dividing the clumps. Continue to plant gladiolus bulbs.

Use "Corona Dry" for currant worms on currants and gooseberries.

Court Finds Paper to Be Sole Judge of What Is News

Newspapers have a right to decide for themselves what is news, regardless of its effect on anyone, according to a decision of the State Appellate Court, made public in Chicago. The decision was in the case of Attorney William Reeda suing the Chicago Tribune for $100,000 damages.

Reeda, a candidate for superior court judge in 1917, resented the action of the Tribune in publishing a fac simile of a portion of a specimen ballot. The published portion named all candidates except Reeda, an independent whom the Tribune did not consider an active contender.

The opinion of the court said it was clear that a newspaper, in the dissemination of matters of public interest has a right to abandon any department it may have established or all new ones or to change its policy, political or otherwise, at its pleasure, and as it may seem best, either for its own or the public welfare.

"According to the plaintiff's argument," the opinion says, "defendant is liable, not for what it did, but for what it refrained from doing. Such is indeed a novel proposition. To make the defendant liable for its silence we must hold that it was obligated to publish in its paper the whole of the fac simile judicial ticket. This we are prepared to do.

"The defendant is the sole judge of the value of news, as such."

Mr. Marinos has recently opened a new grocery store in the building formerly occupied by the Auburn Branch Grocery at 6604 Ashland Ave.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Kline, formerly with the Lagoni Hardware Co., 6324 Ashland Ave. "Kline," as we all call him, is now a full fledged "traveling salesman" for the well known Simmonds Hardware Co. of St. Louis, Mo., and is making good. All the boys wish "Kline" success.

Crippled children left in the wake of infantile paralysis face the problem of re-education of muscles. This requires time and patience as well as skill. That much is accomplished is shown from the fact that a dozen or more children have been graduated from St. John's hospital, Springfield, and now come to the every Thursday clinic for treatment.

When hurry interferes with safety—cut out the hurry.

The chance-taker is the accident-maker.

Accidents to yourself or another are usually somebody's fault; do not let them be your fault.

Use your head and you will always have use of your body.

Practice safety yourself—others will follow you.

It is better to lose a minute in avoiding a possible accident than a month in nursing an injury.

The United States has 263,547 miles of railroad. This is almost seven times larger than the total railroad mileage of any other country in the world.

There is no "law of averages" for accidents. They don't just happen. There is a cause.

What's Home Intended For?

When the young folks gather round in the good old-fashioned way, Singin' all the latest songs gathered from the newest play,
Or they start the phonograph an'
shove the chairs back to the wall
An' hold a little party dance, I'm happiest of all.
Then I sorter settle back, plumb contented watchin' her,
An' I tell myself most proudly, that's what home's intended for.

When the laughter's gaily ringin' an'
the room is filled with song,
I like to sit an' watch 'em, all that glad and merry throng,
For the ragtime they are playin' on the old piano there Beats any high-toned music where the bright lights shine and glare,
An' the racket they are makin' seems to make my pulses stir,
So I whisper in my gladness, that's what home's intended for.

Then I smile an' say to mother, let 'em move the chairs about,
Let 'em frolic in the parlor, let 'em
shove the tables out,
Jus' so long as they are near us, 'jus
so long as they will stay
By the fireplace we are keepin', harm will never come their way.
An' you'll never hear me grumble at the bills that may occur,
For the damage they are doin'— that's what home's intended for.

One of the weddings of much interest of which a notice has been neglected because of lack of facts was that of Mr. Grover D. Castor of New Jersey and Miss Lillian Peterson of 1612 W. 61st St. They were married at the Drexel Park Presbyterian church Saturday, April 17th. The church was very tastily decorated and with the music and service made one of the most impressive weddings of the season. Miss Lillian Organ presided at the piano. The bride was attended by Misses Ruth Hord and Thelma Peterson. Mr. Wm. Organ attended the groom.

Following the wedding service a reception was given at the home to a large circle of friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Castor received many handsome gifts which were a token of the love and esteem they were held by their friends.

They will make their home in East Orange, N. J., where the groom holds a very responsible position with Wilson & Company. Their many friends join in wishing them long, happy lives of prosperity and usefulness.

Why Not Bank in West Englewood

Elmer Jordan, Editor

A great many folks in West Englewood have a small account in our local bank and a large savings account down town. When they want an accommodation they ask the local bank. This is all wrong. The local bank should have the large deposit and the down town bank the small one. It's all right to keep just a little down town so in case you go broke while in the city you can withdraw, but the real bank account should be near your home. They say a man's heart is where his money is. You would not want your heart down town would you? Keep your heart near your home. Our local bank has done more for this community than any or all the other banks. Whose money put up the Columbus Theatre and the New Ascher Bros., also the Masonic Hall, Thoburn church, McGarr's Hall, formerly known as Lipman's, and a number of other local enterprises? Why the local bank, of course. Whose money would help to build a Y. M. C. A. or a Knights of Columbus Club House? Why, the local bank, of course. You enjoy the benefits but you put your money elsewhere. Of course the local bank has over $2,000,000, but if you and your kind would only keep the main money account with the local bank the deposits would be $10,000,000. Think it over and the next time you want a loan from the local bank, think whether you are really entitled to it or not. If you still have the big bag down town then in that case make a bee line for down town, withdraw all but a few hundred and put the big pile in the good old local bank. Then the local bank will be yours in name and in fact.

Bazook Bazassah

When a man makes business go in a spot, like on the wrong side of a street, it means that he has character and that he has the bargains. The man that has our admiration is our friend, Mr. Moran, proprietor of Moran Dry Goods Store on Ashland Ave., south of 63rd St. He is a regular Bazook and also a member of the Business Men's Association. He has made the east side of Ashland Ave. popular with the ladies.

We are still waiting for McManamon's page adv. It will pay him to tell the good folks all about his real bargains in furniture. I bought five chairs from him eight years ago and they have always been a pleasure to me. He can give you your money's worth.

It does one good to see John Bain around in West Englewood again. Have you noticed his golfing walk? It's kind of Scottish. That comes from visiting Scotland.

Bazook Michael Maisel was over to Jordan & Co.'s new building and after a thorough inspection pronounced it perfect.

Mr. Constantine is still making the best candy in the most wonderful ice cream parlor at the southwest corner of 63rd St. and Western Ave.

Bazink Jennie Erickson desires to have the sidewalks between the curb and the regular walk cemented at once. Dr. Meyers please take notice.

The White Dry Goods store sale is sure a success. The ladies are coming in daily for they know real bargains always attend a fire sale. Shop early and save.

Lagoni Hardware Co. are going to advertise regularly from now on. Did you notice their full page ad last week? It gives an idea of what a wonderful stock they are carrying. Take time soon and fill your garden needs. Lagoni is a Bazook.

Our old friend, Hugo Illing, has made all preparations for supplying you with paints, calcimine and other materials to make your home like new. Try him for quality.

We want to see John McCarthy, J. H. Ryan & Co., John Bain & Co., and a few other good firms advertising weekly their bargains. It pays to advertise to the home folks. Ask J. F. Jensen & Co. They know it pays, otherwise they would not advertise. Of course they always deliver the goods, and that means something.

Let's shop in West Englewood. Let's do it now. Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today.

Delays are fatal and procrastination is a thief of time. Do not delay buying a home. Rents will increase again next fall; do not be surprised at $100 per month for flats.

Fifty dollars per month will buy a home. Why not now?

If the South Park Board want to do a good work now it will begin work at once on Marquette rd. between Morgan st. and Ashland ave. The part left unpaved is the worst streak on the entire boulevard system.

Northwest Englewood News

By Peter Kramer

Hats off, gentlemen, to the new owner of the apartment building at 56th and Honore St. That corner never has looked so neat and attractive. Bushes, instead of tin cans and papers, now adorn the front lawn, and the row of trees along 56th St. as well as those in front of the building on Honore St., have made a wonderful improvement in the appearance of the corner. Emboldened, however, by the erroneous distinction afforded ye scribe in a recent issue of the Merchants Telegram of being the champion gardener we are going to take the liberty to inform our good new neighbor, Mr. Anderson, that the grass seed he strewed over the boards and bricks alongside of the building are not very apt to grow. And while we are at it let's give one hurrah for Mr. Roth, the new owner of the building opposite, for his efforts in improving his corner, and then, too, let's hope that the owners of the 57th St. corners will follow the good example set by our new neighbors.

Of course Tommy Mitchell meant well enough when he treated his wife for rheumatism, but a blacksmith's hands are hardly suitable for nursing, as Mrs. Mitchell soon discovered.

Conny Fitzgerald selected a popular date for moving, May 1st. Anyway Honore Manor is sorry to lose the Fitzgeralds. Fortunately, however, they did not move very far. They now belong to the Lincolnites.

It certainly takes a lot of nerve to get married nowadays when sugar is over 30 cents a pound and potatoes a luxury; but that's Jim Hines—he went and did it last Saturday. His honeymoon includes a trip to Detroit, Cleveland and Toledo. The young couple will be at home at 65th and Washtenaw after May 10th. May their married life be long and happy.

We wonder why Ed Durkin never blows his horn while driving his automobile in Honore Manor? It's such a loud one, too.

We have some new neighbors in Honore Manor. The Melchiors from Winchester Ave., who recently purchased Volpin's residence. We hope the Melchiors will like our village.

If Mr. O'Connell will do as good a job cleaning up our alley as he recently did on our street we are going to say some nice things about him. That's an inducement, isn't it Michael?

Have you bought a share in the West Englewood Co-operative Society? That's one way to bring down the cost of living. Call up Issie Morris, Prospect 3667, and ask him to let you sign up for a share or two. They are $10 a share and no member is allowed to own more than five shares. Each member has one vote, regardless of how many shares he owns. You participate in the profits of the store, not in proportion to the number of shares you hold, but in the proportion to the amount of purchases you make in your own store, and besides you get 6 per cent interest on your shares. The store, you therefore see, will be run on strictly co-operative principles; the more wealth you produce (through buying in your store) the greater will be your share of this wealth. A co-operative store on Cottage Grove Ave. in Roseland had sales last year of $150,000. West Englewood, we are sure can equal that.

Mr. Joseph Bockhausen of North Judson, Ind., and Miss Ethel Brown of 6450 Paulina St. were married at the home of the bride Saturday, May 1st, at 4 o'clock. Rev. Clinton C. Cox was the officiating minister. The bride was presented at the altar by her mother and was attended by Miss Ida Williams. The groom was attended by Mr. Arthur F. Brown, a brother of the bride. Only the immediate relatives were present for the service. In the evening a reception was given to a large circle of relatives and friends.

Those from a distance attending the wedding were Walter H. Brown and wife of Algoma, Wis., a brother of the bride, and Mrs. W. F. Sparks and Mrs. W. H. Tesmer of Wilders, Ind., sisters of the groom.

Mr. Bockhausen is employed by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co. of Gary, Ind., and now has a promotion offering him a position in Baltimore which he has accepted, to which place he will take his bride in a few days. Their large circle of friends wish them many joys in life and a goodly portion of success.

It looks very much as if Representative Frank J. Ryan would be returned to the legislature with very little effort. He has made an excellent member for five terms and is always willing to help out his constituency in any needed work.

Be sure to attend the spring dance and card party given by the Young Ladies' Social club of Our Lady of Solace church, K. of C. club house, 6321 Harvard ave., Friday evening, May 7th, 1920.

Unless something is done to clean the alleys in this part of the city before warm weather sets in, there surely will be much sickness as the accumulated piles of filth will surely breed disease.

The Marquette golf links will be the most popular public links in the city this year and are being put in splendid condition.

True Kindred to Hold Special Service

The True Kindred, an organization affiliated with the Masonic order, similar to the Eastern Star, and numbering thousands in their membership in this city, will hold a special religious service Sunday evening, May 2, in Boulevard Masonic Temple, 5505 Halsted St., at 8 o'clock.

The meeting will be addressed by Rev. R. Keene Ryan, a member of the order of True Kindred. Dr. Ryan's subject will be "Friendship the Master Passion."

Members of the order and their friends from all over the city will attend, and every conclave of the True Kindred in Chicago will be represented by delegations.

The public is cordially invited to attend the service as it will be held in Boulevard hall and will take the place of the evening service of the Garfield Boulevard Presbyterian Church of which Dr. Ryan is pastor.

Great interest is manifested in breeding thoroughbred cattle, but few people pay much attention to developing thoroughbred children.

According to the kid element, why worry about engineers' strikes when the problem is so quickly settled by closing the schools?

Perhaps the footwear producers did not foresee prohibition when they gave up making long legged boots.

Looking Backward

(M. D. Massie, in New Canton Press)

Forty-five years ago Massie and Gray bought 500 bushels of potatoes at 25c per bushel and expected to make a profit when spring came. But it was a will o the wisp as the country was full of fine potatoes. Never was such an abundance before or since. They offered them at cost then at 20c, 15c, 10c, 5c and at last told folks to come and get them free. No one wanted them, and they had to hire men and teams to haul them off and put them in low places in the creek. Quite a change now—tubers are worth $9 a hundred.

Fifty years ago the old postmaster told of the enterprising new storekeeper who gave out the word that every customer would be treated to a glass of wine. Old man S Kin Flint came in to trade an egg for a darning needle. When the storekeeper handed him his glass of wine, old Flint said he always took an egg in his wine. So the egg he traded for the darning needle was broken in it. The egg happened to have two yolks and the old fellow said, "You owe me another darning needle," and got it. And the old postmaster said it had never been decided how much the storekeeper made on the trade.

MARQUETTE MANOR TELEGRAM

VOL. I — MAY 5, 1920 — No. 3

The Manor Needs a Theatre

When a community of ten thousand people have to travel one mile or more to a show house, then that is time for them to wake up. The folks out this way have been real patient, but now they are clamoring for action. The noise has reached the ears of Francis Kibort and he is about to erect a $100,000 show house at the southwest corner of 63rd St. and Maplewood Ave. seating 800 people. This should fill our present need. If you want to show you appreciate this good news drop in and see Mr. Kibort. Also subscribe for a few bonds at regular interest rates.

Many a fellow will spend big money for overalls to be in style that could economize by wearing out his old clothes. Good overalls just now are a luxury for real people who must wear them.

The city is "broke" again. No news in this, as it has been for several years. An individual would be locked up for trying to do business the way the city is doing now.

Business men often think themselves too busy to be polite, but they would be busier still if they were more polite. This fact is as true of the storekeeper who comes in direct contact with his customers, perhaps because he realises that he is left with the actual goods on his hands if his customer goes away dissatisfied. The result of uncivil attention are not quite as immediate to the man sitting behind a desk especially if the responsibility is that of another higher up anyway. There is nothing so disgusting as the way in which such a man sits behind his railing, as though he were the lord of all creation, and were doing you a favor to look at you. He is really inviting you to throw a hand grenade at him, bound to explode fatally sooner or later, if he only knew it.

Never mind, we'll have plenty of good picnic weather yet before the price of pork goes down.

Father Perez Council's May Party and Dance at Merry Gardens Friday Eve.

On next Friday evening, May 7th, members and friends of Father Perez Council, No. 1444, Knights of Columbus, will step to the music of Cope Harvey's famous Merry Gardens Orchestra in the Merry Gardens at 61st St. and Cottage Grove Ave.

The entire net proceeds will go to the Lafayette Statue-Cardinal Mercier funds. The statue will be erected in Metz next August. The Cardinal Mercier fund is a tribute to the famous clergyman and his people of Belgium. Both funds are truly patriotic and an appreciation from our people.

Dr. Stair Is Given Reception

On Thursday of last week the Englewood Baptist church held a reception for its new pastor, Rev. George R. Stair, and his family, which was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The church auditorium and parlors were beautifully decorated for the occasion. Music was supplied by the choir, the Englewood Baptist Concert band, and the girls' ukelele club. There were several short addresses of welcome by representatives of the various organizations of the church, to which Dr. Stair responded in fitting words. Mrs. C. R. Jernberg gave a violin solo, and Miss Lusinn Barakin sang.

Dr. Stair's forceful and interesting preaching is attracting very large congregations at all services. He will preach next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. on "The Wounded Hand," and at 7:30 p. m. his subject will be "The Golden Moment in Every Life." It is Dr. Stair's intention to make the evening services of a popular character, bright, interesting and inspirational, especially for the young men and women of Englewood who do not regularly attend any other church. Dr. Stair is exceedingly popular with the young people and they are turning out in large numbers at all services. All young people are especially invited next Sunday evening to hear what "the golden moment" is. Older people of course also are cordially welcomed. All seats free.

Boy Scout Field Day

At a representative gathering of scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, district council members and troop committeemen of the Boy Scouts of America, south-west district, Monday evening last, at Hamilton Park, Alderman Lyle spoke of the scout field day to be held June 25th, and endorsed the plan.

There was much enthusiasm at the meeting. The slogan, "Every scout in some event on field day," was adopted.

The music has already been secured and the scouts are now working in their various troops on stunts and exhibits for the occasion.

Captain R. E. Maysack of the Parker high school is drilling the scouts in a big mass drill of semaphore signaling. Working exhibits of wireless and aeroplanes are being arranged by several troops.

The committee on events held a meeting early Monday evening and have planned spectacular events such as chariot races, wall scaling, kite flying, military drill, archery and many other things that will be of interest to the spectators.

The following executive committee on general plans was named: V. H. Munnecke, chairman; David Winton, grounds; F. F. Bradley, events; F. M. Fairfield, exhibits; F. T. Bascom, police; James McKinlay, circus stunts, clowns; Hon. M. Cleland, judges; Lester Lee, rules; Capt. A. C. Jones, parade and review; J. R. Robertson, publicity; W. G. Tegtmeier, awards; C. V. Hines; Director Campbell of Hamilton Park; Alderman Lyle.

Heartless Chicago Publication Says, "I Told You So" to Tenants Complaining of High Rents

A Chicago trade publication in a recent issue printed an article on the present shortage of homes and the complaints of tenants that rentals were exorbitant. A portion of this article reads as follows:

"For years and years the realty men have been begging and beseeching the people to buy homes. They put families in new houses for as little as $100 cash, and they nursed thousands of these buyers along through all kinds of hard times to help them pay for their homes. They planned and schemed and petted home-buyers. Meanwhile flat-dwellers by thousands sneered at the 'poor boobs' who were lured into home-buying by 'those real estate sharps.'

"In past years, when the really wise ones were struggling to pay for homes thousands of 'wise guys' were flitting from flat to flat, many of them leaving landlords to mourn unpaid rents. They demanded three months' free rent on two-year leases, special decorating, extra concessions galore. They are the gentry who are now squawking about rent profiteering, damning the heartless landlords, and yelping for help from the Real Estate Board.

"For years before the war the journal advocated home-buying. It urges home-buying today. Hundreds of hard-headed, foresighted people took our advice before the war. They are not worrying about the rent hogs. They can take good profits any day on their investments. They have, for the most part, to thank 'those real estate sharps' for their good fortune, for mostly it was the pushing by real estate men that landed them in their own homes.

"We confess not having much sympathy for the man who does not own his home. The cries of the stricken whose rents have been boosted fall on dull ears with us. They chose a butterfly existence, and despised the home-buying ants in other days. If their wings are being frosted now it is their own fault."

These sentiments are pretty strong and seem very cruel to the butterfly, but provide food for thought. The fact remains that the housing situation in Chicago is in a very critical condition and that concerted action should be taken to help out as much as possible.

Big Circus and Carnival for Marquette Manor

Mr. Hugh C. Reilley has been selected publicity manager of the big circus and carnival which the residents of Marquette Manor are arranging for June 10th to 19th inclusive. Mr. Reilley is very well known in local political and lodge circles and is well qualified to fill the position. Committees have been named and the work of organization is progressing rapidly.

This affair will excel anything of the kind the Southwest Side has ever witnessed. The large grounds at 63rd and Washtenaw have been secured and a very high class, enjoyable affair seems assured. The entire proceeds will be donated to the building fund of St. Rita church.

Among the prominent men active in promoting the affair are Frank X. Trauscht, H. J. O'Connor, Dr. J. C. Green, C. F. Mathias, Ald. Thos. F. Byrne, Brendan M. O'Connell, Chas. Shilt, C. J. Heniff, Wm. Slavin and Frank A. Moynihan.

The general committee of 200 is headed by Daniel O'Connell, chairman, and John Sheridan, secretary.

Englewood High School Gleanings.

Englebooster Meeting

The regular Englebooster meeting was held on Wednesday, April 28th. Banners were given to all freshmen rooms having a one hundred per cent membership in the Englebooster Association. A sextette of girls danced a charming Spanish dance. Carl Zeitler gave a charming violin solo. An original play given by the Drama club interested everyone.

Baseball Game Postponed

The baseball game between Englewood and Hyde Park high schools which was to be played on Tuesday, April 27, has been postponed indefinitely on account of rain.

Speakers for Commencement

The speakers chosen for the June commencement exercises are: Russell Pierce and Stella Johnson, who were elected by the graduating class; and Rosalie Allman and Roy Podesta, who were elected by the faculty. The other speakers will be Robert Wilson, the class president, and the two having the highest averages in their studies for four years.

Military Ball

On Tuesday, April 27th, a military ball was given. It was well attended and everyone had a good time.

Rehearsals for the Opera

Rehearsals for the opera have been resumed on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. The performance will be given very soon.

Progress Made on the New Building

Miss Allin's office and social room have been completed this week, and she expects to move into them very soon.

"E" Out This Week

The May number of the "E" was published on Wednesday, April 28th. It was one of the best numbers of the season.

The Association Luncheons

The teachers of the Englewood high school and those of the Lewis-Champlin are pleased to have the members of the Sixty-third Street Commercial Association come to the school lunch-room for their Wednesday luncheons. The school and the community will benefit by the understanding that will result.

Personals

Although the spring vacation came rather suddenly, some of the teachers went out of the city. Among them are Miss Smith, who went south, and Miss Farley, who went to Mineral Springs and to the Sand Dunes.

Miss Urion and Miss Stockbridge are still out because of illness.

Mrs. Hazel B. Gay is glad to announce that Mr. Gay has left the navy and will return to Chicago on Saturday, May 2nd. He will begin work as a minister at the Auburn Federated church on Sunday, May 3rd.

Camp Fire Items

Camp Potowanomy of Englewood Baptist church are working hard preparing for a demonstration of Camp Fire work to be held May 18th at the church. The girls are a live group and a good demonstration is assured.

The girls were glad to welcome their pastor, Rev. Stair, as a visitor at their last meeting. Come again, Mr. Stair.

The guardians of the south-west district met at the home of Miss Edith Harper, 7408 Princeton ave. They had a splendid meeting and were served a very dainty lunch.

Kewanee Alan camp will be guests of the Maccabees May 8th.

The Kewanee Alan's new club-room is ready to be occupied and they expect many good times to be held there.

Mrs. C. C. Thornburg has been reappointed field guardian of south-west district, with Mrs. C. J. Musser and Mrs. George Gordon as aids.

Send all Camp Fire news to the Englewood Times before Wednesday noon.

Reviving Old La Salle St.

Long "before the Fair" one of the prettiest sections of Englewood was the La Salle st. district looking north from the old viaduct on 61st st., but of late this favored district has been neglected and become quite seedy. Now thanks to the efforts of Mr. G. H. Leitch of 6066 La Salle st., an organization has been formed, and from 61st st. north the street is being beautified and organized into a community improvement club. Shade trees and shrubs have been set along the streets and lawns and a play ground opened on Joe Fagan's vacant lots in the center of the block for the children and the pretty old district is assuming its old time beauty and homeiness. This is a fine example for other districts to follow.

A Heifer Hide and a Cheap Pair of Shoes—No Bull

John Cummings lost a pretty fine heifer the other day. She died. John did his best to recoup the loss by removing the hide and bringing it to town to sell. The hide weighed 31 pounds, and the local price that day was 15 cents a pound. The price, he says, was 30 cents a pound a few months ago, but it had dropped to 15. The hide brought him $4.65.

Then he went to buy his 15-year-old son a pair of shoes, and found the cheapest pair to be had cost a flat five dollar bill. That was 35 cents more than he had received for the heifer hide. John felt a little sore about it, and came around to tell The Patriot about the circumstance. He said that heifer's hide would make a number of pairs of shoes like those he bought, and probably better ones.

Of course it is quite a distance from a green hide sold to a meat market in Carrollton, to Brockton or some other Massachusetts shoe factory town, via the tannery and the leather market, through the process of manufacture, then to the wholesale house and back to a Carrollton store. There are a number of high wage scales and short working days stationed at different points along that route, and every one adds to the cost. Furthermore, it takes quite a while for a drop in the price of hides to get over the route and make a drop in the price of shoes.

It is all very intricate and puzzling, and we can't understand why the demand for hides has dropped off so that the price has fallen 100 per cent while people are still crazy to buy high-priced shoes. Ask somebody who knows. John—we don't.—Carrollton Patriot.

The Beauty Spot of Chicago

Did you ever walk down a street in an ordinary neighborhood, then take a ride to Marquette Manor and walk down one of its streets?

If You Ever Did

then you must have noticed the difference. To begin with, the streets are all paved, all the lots are large, a building line keeps all buildings back fifteen feet, and there is an absence of stores on side streets. The homes have excellent lawns, well kept front porches, and shrubbery. It is indeed a pleasure to stroll down such a street. The back yards in this charming spot are likewise well looked after. In fact a contest or two has stirred a contest and the result is easily to be seen.

The True Kindred to Meet

"The True Kindred" of Chicago, an order of the Masonic fraternity similar in character to the Eastern Star, will hold a religious service in Boulevard Masonic Temple, 5505 Halsted st., Sunday evening, May 2nd, at 8 o'clock.

Rev. R. Keene Ryan, a member of the True Kindred, will deliver the address of the evening and conduct the service. His subject will be: "Friendship the Master Passion." The public is cordially invited to attend the service as it will be held openly in Boulevard Hall. A splendid musical program has been prepared.

Getting Even With Landlord Gets Some Into Trouble

As a sort of sabotage, some tenants of apartment buildings have been caught in the act of letting the water flow unlimited, thus increasing the water bills of the owner. These people are probably unaware of the fact that there is a special law against this very thing, and a fine and even imprisonment may be meted out to violators. In addition to this any landlord may cancel the lease of a tenant found guilty of wasting water for any ulterior purpose, and several cases are now pending that will stop this sort of I. W. W. sabotage. Destruction and abuse of rented property is one of the reasons rents had to be raised, and such actions upon the part of tenants can only result in still higher rents, and must be stopped.

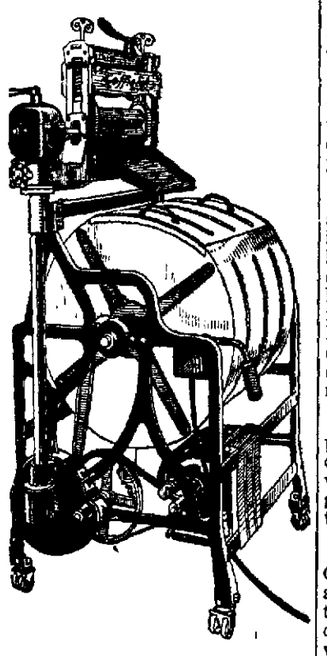
Takes Most of the Work Out of Washday and All the Dirt Out of the Clothes

The COFFIELD Electric Washer

Making Every Minute Count on Washday

Means putting an end to the fuss, muss and worry of out-of-date tubs, wash-board and wringer. The steam-filled laundry, washday confusion and all the other disagreeable features disappear and in their place the Coffield Electric Washer, with Swinging Wringer, swiftly and noiselessly makes the soiled clothes thoroughly clean.

The Coffield is a willing, tireless servant that does your bidding uncomplainingly—and does it well. It can be easily moved into any desired position for use and rolled back out of the way when the work is done with about as little effort as you would move a chair. It is compact—takes up but little room and can be placed close to laundry tubs—unnecessary to move washer after once placed where you want it.



The Coffield is the complete answer to every washday problem—the servant that never fails nor disappoints you—the one whose wages you pay in pennies instead of dollars.

The Coffield saves money—saves clothes—saves work—saves time—saves steps—and safeguards the health of the operator.

It is an investment that will yield big dividends in comfort and happiness every week in the year, and we are prepared to prove these facts to your entire satisfaction any time.

Resolve to become the owner of a Coffield Electric Washer and SAVE A WORLD OF WORK

The Coffield Electric Washer With Swinging Wringer

as illustrated and described in this advertisement is on daily display in our salesroom and we will be pleased to show and explain the many novel features of this wonderful machine to you, whenever it suits your convenience to call. Whether you are ready to buy a washer or not, you will find it well worth while to look at this machine and find out what it will save you in time, work and money.

An appliance of this kind is not a luxury, but an absolute necessity in every modern and well-ordered household. The Coffield is the product of the pioneer designers and builders of motor driven washing machines and their name on this Electric Washer is more than sufficient to guarantee its washing qualities, working efficiency and mechanical excellence.

We are at your service to explain the washer and you are welcome to our time for this purpose, without feeling the slightest obligation to buy unless it pleases you to do so.

Why not resolve now to have a Coffield Electric Washer and begin at once to put your washdays on this easier—better—cleaner-clothes basis and save the work, worry, time and money that you will save The Coffield Way?

The 'Simplex' with Attached Motor

THIS is the ideal installation. It permits placing the ironer to the best advantage for light necessary to good ironing. Also, should an accident happen, say to your washing machine motor, you would not be deprived of the use of both machines; in fact, you might possibly make use of the motor of the "Simplex" to tide you over until the other had been repaired.

The motors supplied with the "Simplex" are the best obtainable, of ample strength and capacity to take care of any temporary overload which might be accidentally placed on the ironer.

The "Simplex" can be connected to an ordinary lamp socket, eight feet of reinforced flexible cord being provided for this purpose, as also a switch mounted on the machine convenient to operator for turning the current on and off. All electrical connections—switch, cord and plug, are approved quality to meet the most exacting rules and regulations of any community.

The "Simplex" operates noiselessly and the safety both of the person using it as well as the goods being ironed, are positively assured.

How the 'Simplex' Works

THE "Simplex" works on the same principle as any ordinary iron, only instead of the iron being moved over the linen, the latter is moved against the sationary iron. In place of an ironing board you have a roller, heavily padded with a soft felt; on top of this several layers of sheeting.

The point where the "Simplex" distinguishes itself from other irons, however, is in the automatic control (see illustration).

Lowering the feedboard removes the roll from contact with the ironing surface, just like putting your hand iron on a rest. At the same time the motion of the roll is automatically stopped, so you can withdraw any goods at any time, or you may leave the ironer momentarily to answer the door bell. It also enables you to lay a folded piece or a number of them on and over the roll and insures you a straight start at all times. On single or double thicknesses of goods the feed board need not be lowered as these will start in readily. This patented feature means safety to the operator and safety to the goods being ironed, and is found only in the "Simplex."

The stationary ironing shoe of the "Simplex" permits ideal burner condition, as also permanent connections. Moreover, this being the heaviest part, is made to act as the foundation upon which the ironer is built. There are no repairs required on a "Simplex"—nothing to wear out. A little attention in the way of oiling every six months, and the ironer will last a lifetime. But the "Simplex" is serviced, and any person owning one can obtain any parts for it at nominal cost, or advice as to its use, for the asking.
